

Week 39: Wear What You LOVE

What if I told you...

I truly believe that what we wear affects how we feel about ourselves. I grew up with a Mom who told me almost everyday...

“Leslie Dawn, no matter where you are going it’s important to look nice.”.

So I always do. It doesn’t matter if I am going to our local grocery store for a gallon of milk...I always try to look presentable. That doesn’t mean I haven’t gone into Wal-Mart looking like a train wreck...but 90% of the time I at least have my hair done or a ball cap on and lip gloss.

But here’s what I REALLY mean

What we are talking about this week is wearing what we LOVE...or as Kelly Rae Roberts calls it...Wearing Our Joy.

Important to note...wearing what we love probably means something VERY different than what our friend is wearing. You may feel absolutely AMAZING in sweats, a t-shirt and a hat while your bestie prefers leggings, a gold sweater and long boots. The goal here is to...

Wear What YOU Love

Our Lesson

It's time to go through your closet and take out EVERYTHING that doesn't make your Heart absolutely, 100% SING! Make three piles...your LOVE pile...your "I think I will put you up for awhile" pile and your "take to charity" pile.

This can be a FUN way to spend an afternoon so embrace it!!! Remember you can change up the look of an outfit with a piece of jewelry, too!!

Join I Say Yes here.

Our Private FB group here.